Tripolis Dialogue Web Forms Module

Make registering online more easy and react with the Tripolis Dialogue Web Forms Module. Using this module provides a simple way to enrich your marketing database. The user friendly web based editor builds the required forms step by step in the right look and feel, including the data you want to collect. You simply set to which databases in Tripolis Dialogue the form should connect. New profiles are created for clients and prospects, and changes in the profiles of existing customers can be implemented automatically.

The Web Forms Module allows you to publish web forms and using iframes to integrate your existing website. Whether it's a contact form, an information request, a registration form or a short survey, all types of forms are possible.

Email, mobile & social marketing software

Tripolis Dialogue is a high-end multichannel dialogue marketing platform for email, mobile and social marketing and designed specifically for (international) marketers and publishers. Tripolis Dialogue is delivered as a complete email marketing campaign system that is built around a number of modules. Depending on your situation there is always a suitable offer.

The basis is the Contact Management Module for centralized storage of data and contacts. The Content Management Module allows you to design campaigns and edit text and images. Afterwards, Publish Management ensures guaranteed email and SMS delivery. The Report Management module provides realtime and very detailed insight into the results of the campaign. Finally, Tripolis Dialogue is expandable with the separate Campaign Management Module: drag and drop a unique online suite for multichannel and event-driven campaign management.
